

“Just because you have had a baby, it doesn't mean you know all the things about looking after it, and coming to PEEP's given me the chance to really know how to play with my baby at home.”

“Definitely as much for parents/carers as for children.”

What does PEEP offer?

PEEP recognises that parents and carers are children's first and most important educators and aims to support parents to give their children a flying start in life.

The PEEP "Learning Together" programme offers ideas and information to support children's learning through everyday activities.

PEEP encourages children and adults to be confident learners.

"I love coming to PEEP, it gives me great one-to-one time with my daughter. It's a good place to meet other parents as well, especially if you've had a rough week, it's great to be able to talk to other parents about it and someone'll say "Oh I had that last week"-it makes you feel much better."

"4 year olds engaged in Peep made significantly greater progress than others in several areas, including understanding about language, books and print as well as improving self-esteem."
